STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE

A Step-By-Step Guide To Meeting Someone You Can Settle Down And Build Your Life With

WHERE YOU ARE RIGHT NOW

Does This Sound Like You?

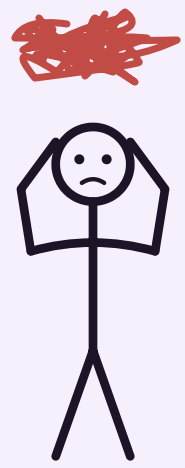

YOU MIGHT BE FEELING

1. You’ve done the work, but love is the one area that hasn’t shifted
2. There’s always something else to fix
3. Your friends are settling down and nothing is happening for you
4. You’ve been single longer than you ever expected
5. Part of you thinks: “Maybe it can happen for others, but not for me”

AND YOU'VE DONE THE WORK

You've Tried Everything

- Attachment styles
- Boundaries
- Red flags
- Healing your wounds
- Manifestation
- Not chasing
- Nervous system work

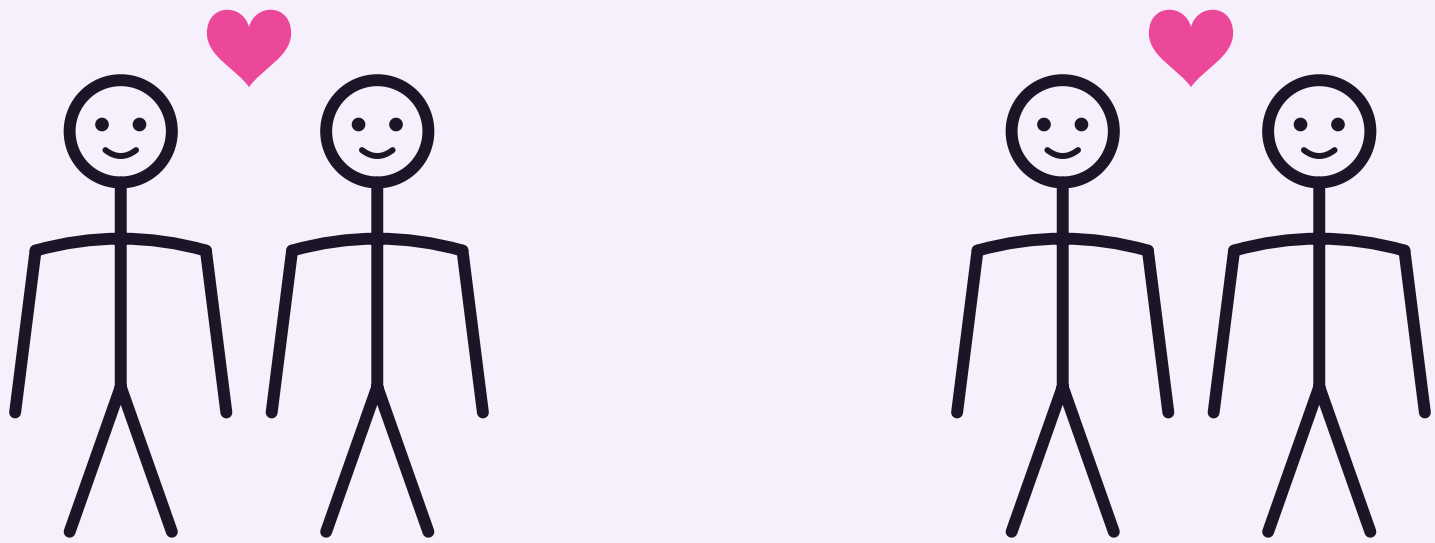

THE TRUTH

It's helped you grow in so many areas. But none of it has changed how you feel about love.

THE PROOF

Your Friends Didn't Need Any Of This

Your friends and family haven't done half the work you have. Yet they met their person and built a life together.

~~Healing every wound~~

~~Red flags~~

~~Dating rules~~

SO WHAT'S REALLY GOING ON?

It's Not What You Know. It's What You Believe.

THE REAL PROBLEM

You know exactly what you want. But part of you still doesn't believe it can happen.

YOU'RE STUCK IN YOUR HEAD

That's Why Learning Hasn't Helped

Psychiatrists call it intellectualization. Here, it means trying to think or learn your way out of the lack of belief. But learning more doesn't make you truly believe it can happen, so the loop keeps going.

1

Doubt

Part of you still doesn't believe it can happen

2

Discomfort

Worry, dread and a tight feeling in your chest

3

Overthinking

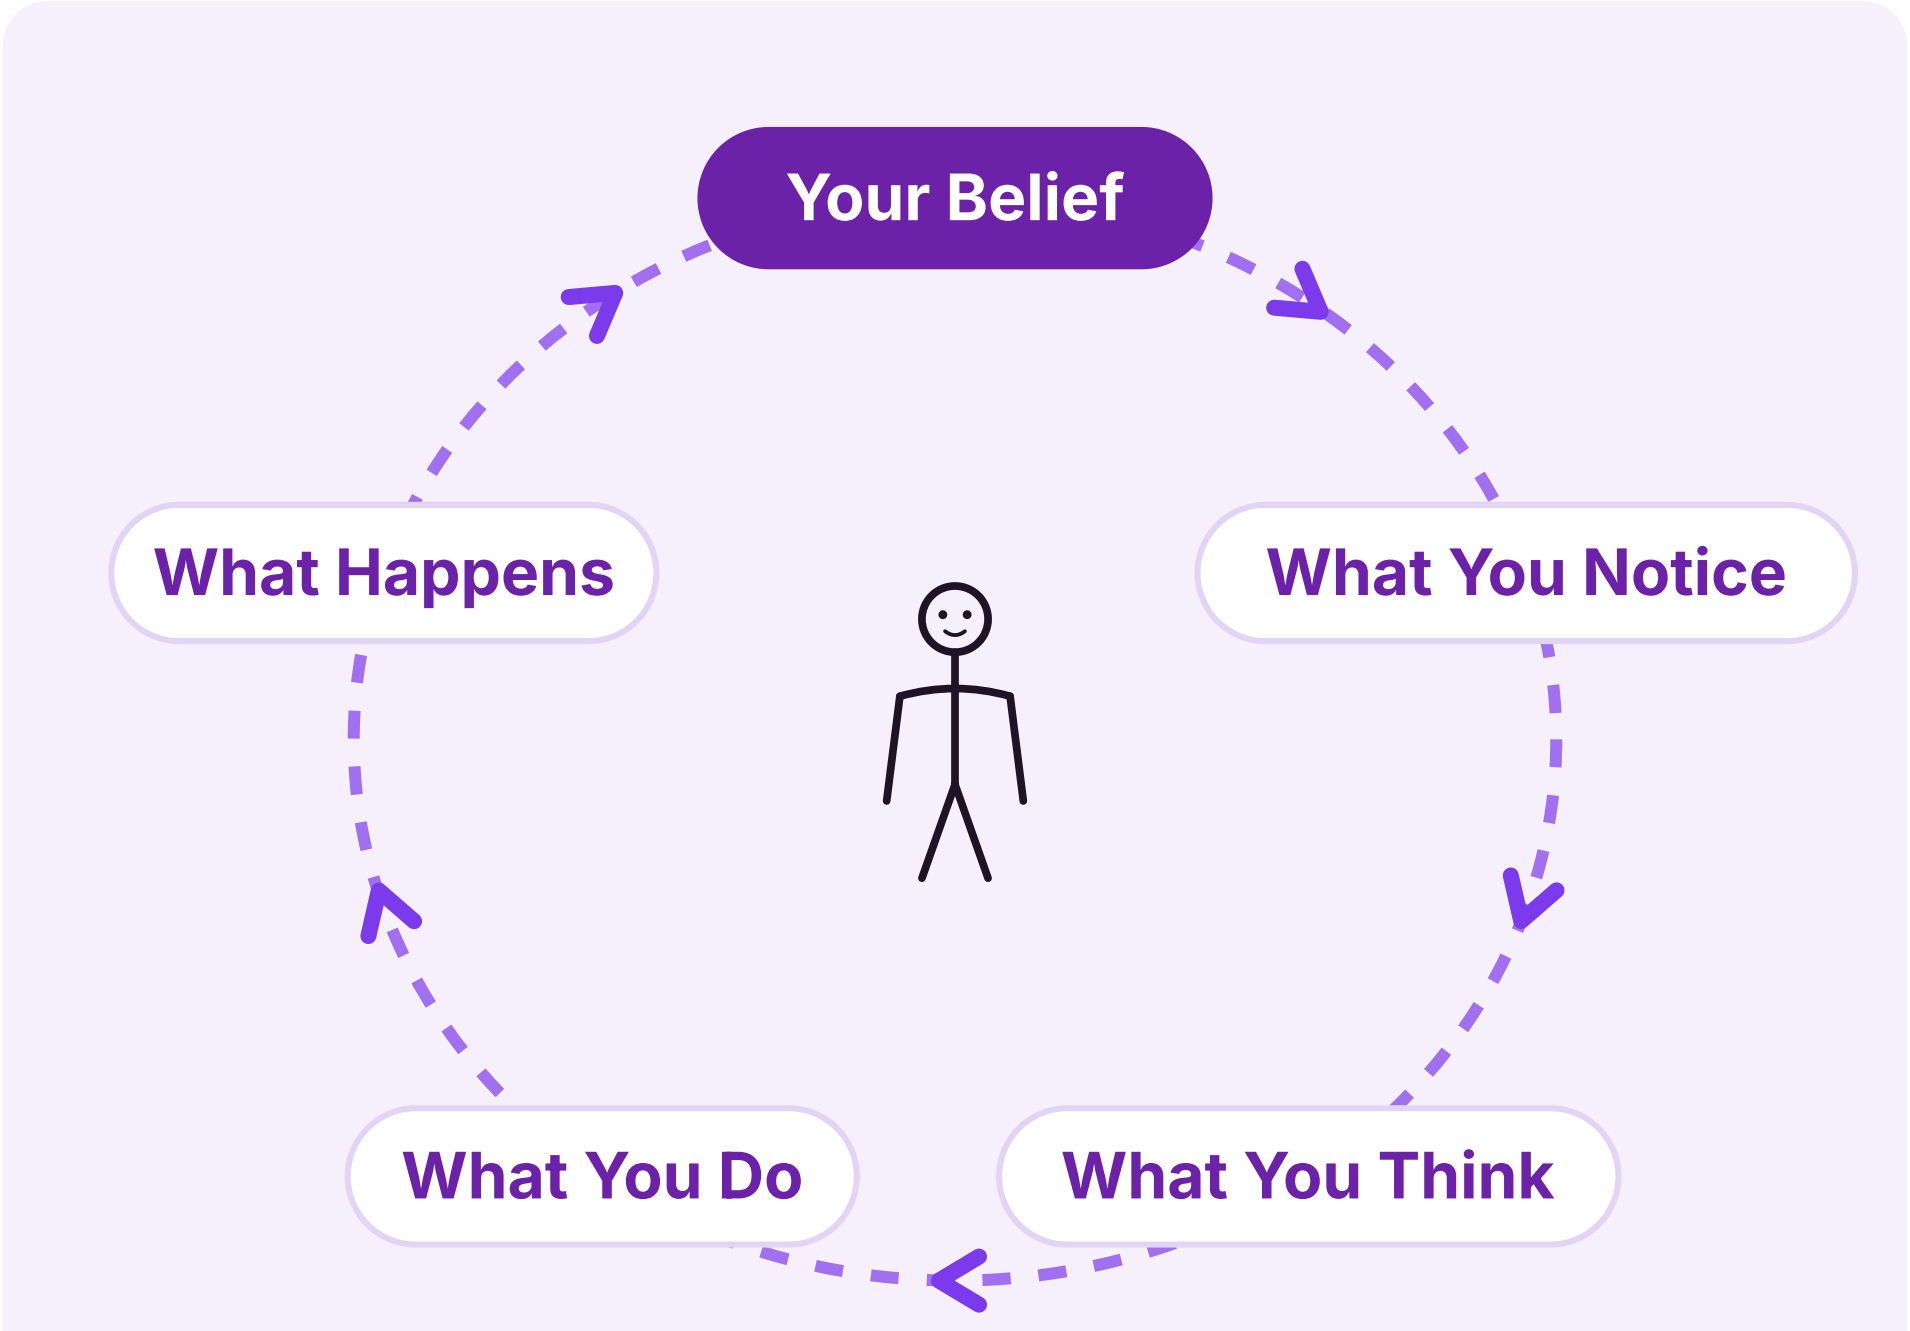

You try to learn and 'fix' your way out

ROUND AND ROUND

WHY BELIEF MATTERS

Your Belief Shapes What Happens

What you believe decides what you notice, what you think and what you do. And that shapes the people you meet and the relationships you end up in.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Where You Lost Your Belief

It started as a thought. You felt the worry of it, again and again. And the longer you stayed single, the stronger this belief got, until it became who you think you are.

The Thought
“I never seem to meet the right person”

+

The Feeling
Worry and hopelessness

+

Repetition
You repeat this over and over

=

The Belief
“I’m someone who can’t find love”

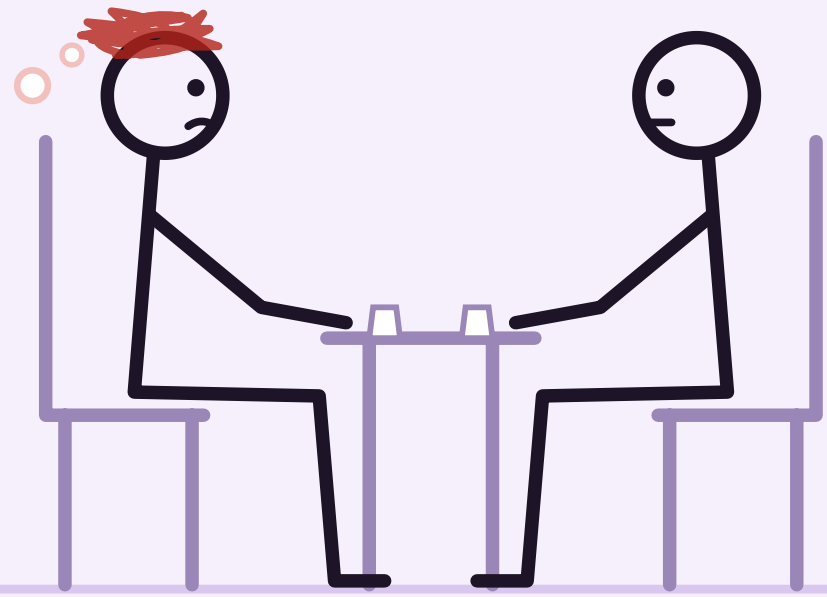

WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE

When You Act From The Negative Belief

Same you, same date. But “I’m someone who can’t find love” decides how you show up.

Am I too much?

They’ll lose interest

ON THE DATE

1. You go into every date braced for it to go wrong
2. You wonder: “Am I too much? Am I not enough?”
3. You hold back so you don’t get hurt again
4. You’re drawn to people who keep you guessing

CHANGE THE THOUGHT AND THE FEELING

How To Reverse It

Change the thought and the feeling, repeat it, and you build a new belief.

The Thought
“I’m with my person”

+

The Feeling
Safe and at peace

Repetition
You repeat this over and over

=

The Belief
“I’m someone who finds love”

WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE

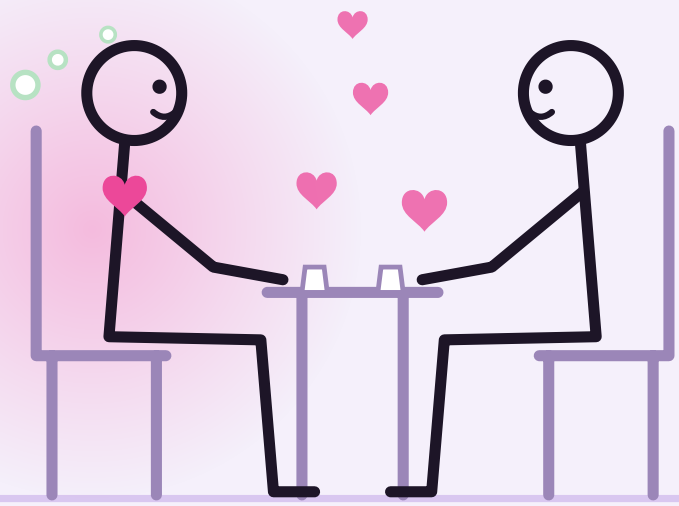

When You Act From The Positive Belief

Same you, same date. Now “I’m someone who finds love” decides how you show up.

I’m enjoying this

I can just be me

Whatever happens, I’m okay

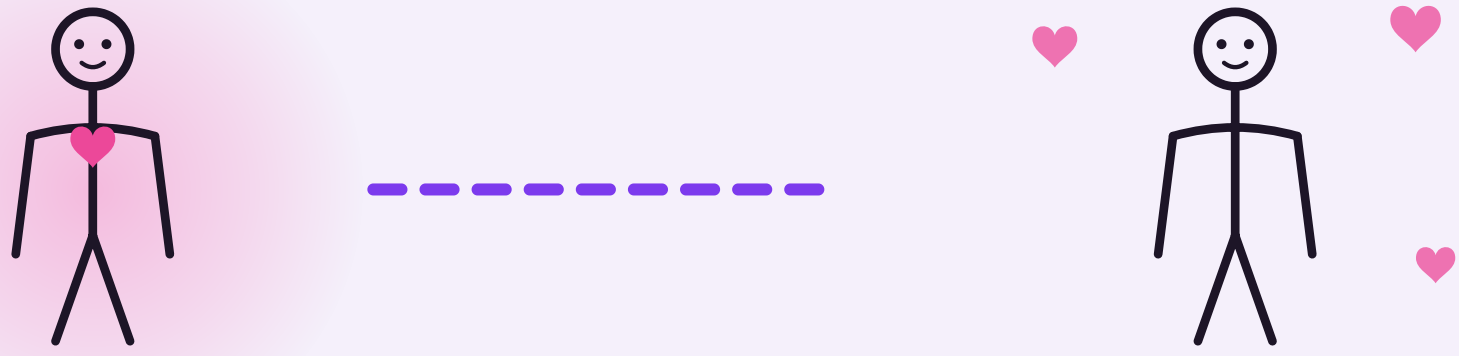

ON THE DATE

1. You show up relaxed and fully yourself
2. You feel safe being open and vulnerable
3. You notice the people who are consistent and available
4. You lose interest in the ones who keep you guessing

WHAT TO EXPECT

Then Things Start To Unfold Naturally

You show up relaxed and fully yourself, without faking it or thinking about how to act. And dating feels fun again, not a chore.

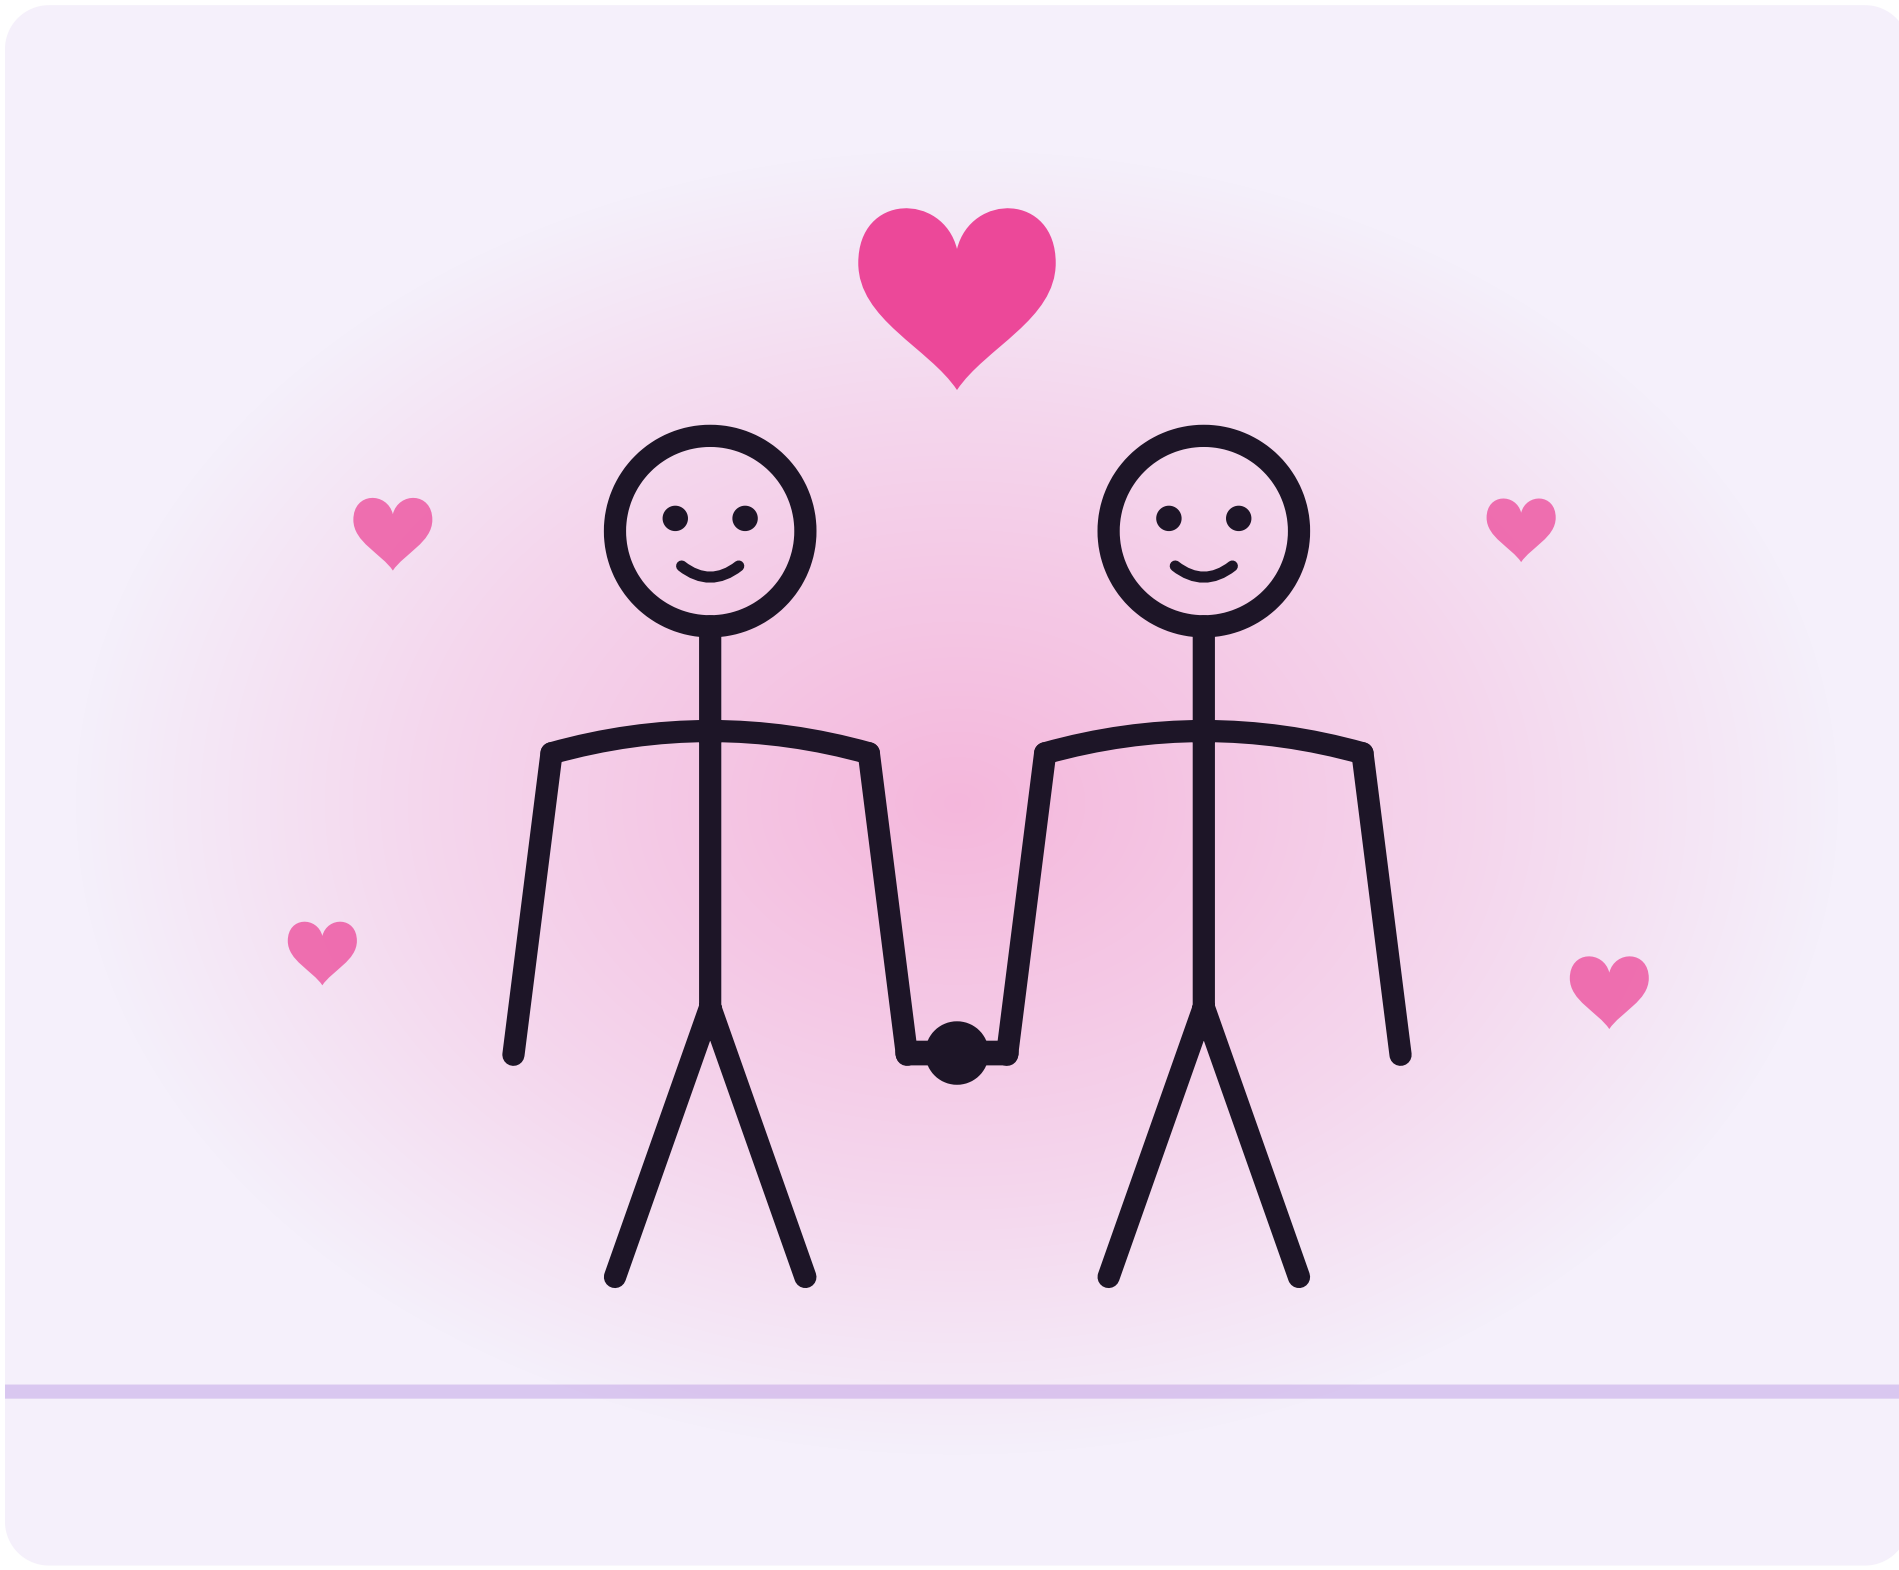

- Relaxed and yourself
- You notice the right people
- Time wasters lose appeal

The right people start showing up

FEEL IT FIRST

Nothing To Fix.
Nothing More To Learn.

You simply believe it can happen, so it does. Just like it’s happened for your friends and family.
